August 20, 2012 at 12:00 AM EDT

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 20, 2012 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Micron Technology, Inc. (Nasdaq:MU), today announced that the company has named John Waite as vice president of global supply chain.

Waite will be responsible for all aspects of global supply chain management at Micron including customer delivery, operational planning, forecasting and inventory management.

With more than 15 years of executive global supply chain management experience, Waite's professional background includes previously serving as the vice president of global supply chain and other related roles at GLOBALFOUNDRIES, Advanced Micro Devices (AMD) and IBM Microelectronics.

"John's track record of successfully managing global supply chain programs will help us advance our global supply chain efforts that have become increasingly complex as the company has grown its operations, product portfolio and focus on market segments. We are pleased to have John join our team," said Micron President Mark Adams.

Waite holds a bachelor of science degree in Business and Technology Management from Trinity College and an associates in applied science degree in Electrical Engineering from Vermont Technical College.
